REPORT.

In presenting my Fourth Report, I take the opportunity to thank all who have sent me answers to the circular issued, and to say to those who have omitted to send answers, that they alone are to be blamed for any mistakes in their records.

The various points of interest regarding the Class as a whole, I have collected and condensed at the end of the report, to which I have added a statement of the finances of the Class and the minutes of the several meetings.

You will please note that you put on record last year the sentiment that the Class Fund should be increased to $5,000. It is certainly a laudable sentiment, and I promise to use my best efforts to make you live up to it. Seventy-seven members of the Class have paid in $3,900, and there are some $400 subscribed and unpaid, and it is not to much to expect that the other seventy members of the Class will make good the deficiency.

I have delayed taking any action towards getting further subscriptions until now, thinking that the Triennial Report would renew the interest we all feel in the welfare of '71, and induce those who have not already expressed their interest in a substantial manner to do so at once.

With a fund of $5,000 we can have our Class Dinners more frequently, and a more extensive entertainment on Commencement Days, and it is well to bear in mind the fact, that when the Fund is finally donated to such purpose as the Class may see fit, the income of $5,000 will not be any too generous a gift for a Class like '71. I trust, therefore, that those who have not already subscribed will do so at once, and that at our next meeting I may have the pleasure of announcing that the designated limit has been reached.

The Class Committee, in accordance with the vote taken at our last meeting, have decided to have a Class Dinner in 1881, our decennial anniversary, and you will be duly informed as to further arrangements.

I would thank any one to notify me of any omissions or errors in their own reports or those of others they may detect, and would renew my request that you inform me promptly of any changes in your addresses or occupations.

ALBERT M. BARNES,
Class Secretary.

MEETINGS.

The Second Triennial Dinner of the Class took place at the Parker House, Boston, June 26, 1877. Seventy-two members were present. Harvey N. Shepard acted as Chairman, Horace E. Deming as Toastmaster, and W. L. Sprague as Chorister.

Commencement, June 27, 1877.

Business meeting of the Class was held at Hollis 22, at 12.30, P.M., Dudley H. Bradlee in the chair.

The Secretary read the tributes to the respect of Charles Bradshaw and Percy Austin, as prepared by friends, and the same were approved and ordered to be placed on the records of the Class.

The project of erecting a Class Window in Memorial Hall, and of raising the necessary funds by subscription, was fully discussed, and it was finally Voted, That a committee be appointed by the chair to canvass the Class, and fully investigate the matter, without taking any action to bind the Class in any way, and report at the next meeting.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Commencement, June 26, 1878.

Business meeting of the Class was held at Holworthy 21, at 12.45 P.M., Thomas Nesmith in the chair.

The Secretary's report was read and accepted. The tribute to the respect of Archibald McClure Bush, prepared by friends, was read and approved, and ordered to be placed on the records of the Class.

The report of the Committee on Memorial Window was read and accepted, and it was voted that the committee be continued for another year and endeavor to obtain further support for the project.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Commencement, June 25, 1879.

Business meeting of the Class was held at Holworthy 13, at 12.30, P.M., George F. Roberts in the chair. The Secretary's annual report was read and accepted. The tribute to the respect of Samuel Howe was read and approved, and ordered to be placed on the records of the Class. The question having been raised as to whether the next Class Dinner should be held in 1880 (that being the regular triennial anniversary) or should be deferred until our decennial anniversary in 1881, it was voted that it should be held in 1880, and that the Class Committee should have full powers to decide the question of a dinner in 1881, and make all necessary arrangements.

The Committee on Memorial Window reported adversely on the project, and asked to be discharged; but the meeting voted that they should continue one year longer, and take such further action as they deemed best on the matter.

It was voted, as the sentiment of the meeting, that the Class Fund should be increased to $5,000.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.
